Dr. Hans C. Werner - Swisscom (Schweiz) AG

We do often see that many of our talents are following a very individual life balance by differentiating consciously different stages of their lives. From a professional perspective during those phases it's key to stay in business – therefore I think it's just great to get offered very flexible and individualized training opportunities to balance life and at the same time boost your career.

Rose Moura - Schmolz + Bickenbach AG

On my way up the career ladder and especially during two major moves, the iiimt was a consistent partner to advance my career. The offered courses were as inspiring as the networking events opened doors. Strive for lifelong learning is key to keep up with dynamic business needs. The flexible and comprehensive programme was a major contributor factor to rise to the challenges and provided me with the foundation to seize the opportunities.
