

Empower tomorrow's leaders

Invest in education

iimt - A Swiss Competence Centre

The international institute of management in technology (iimt), as part of the University of Fribourg, is a leading Swiss competence centre for management in technology and is committed to excellent education and research.

Our vision is to develop future game-changers who will have an impact in society, who can face technology-driven challenges and who can provide solutions for identified emerging issues in a global business environment.

Our mission is to provide mutual inspiring environments for excellent postgraduate education and cutting-edge research in the field of management in technology. We strive to enable a unique and agile learning experience by linking national and international academics and practitioners with the most recent tools and learning techniques. Individual learning and research objectives are realized through stakeholder proximity and strong partnerships. We pool people, cultures, ideas, services and technologies to create real value adding for society.

Your investment

In a globalised world, companies compete with each other on a daily basis. Managers need to be well armed to face everyday challenges. A good manager needs talent, but not only talent. A manager is also a professional within his or her own business. The iimt offers potential managers the professional competence to become leaders of tomorrow.

Would you like to support one of these potential managers? Would you like to invest in tomorrow's leaders, education and research? Make your choice unique, and position yourself as a socially responsible investor. Strengthen the foundations of your business and invest not only in economic prosperity, but also in social capital. Investing in your own social capital is your opportunity to establish a competitive advantage.

Become an iimt partner - and make your choice unique

Tick any box.

General	Executive Programmes	Research
<input type="checkbox"/> Membership of the iimt institute council	<input type="checkbox"/> Executive MBA Scholarship (30 free modules)	<input type="checkbox"/> Doctoral programme
<input type="checkbox"/> Visibility on a national and international level*	<input type="checkbox"/> 12% reduction on booked modules	<input type="checkbox"/> Joint research activities
<input type="checkbox"/> Presentation in the iimt Newsletter	<input type="checkbox"/> Free modules	<input type="checkbox"/> Academic advice and consultancy
<input type="checkbox"/> 10% reduction on the iimt University Press	<input type="checkbox"/> Guest lectures in Executive Programme courses	<input type="checkbox"/> Guest lectures in university courses
<input type="checkbox"/> Discount on several events	<input type="checkbox"/> Positioning within the academic world	<input type="checkbox"/> Bachelor and Master theses

* Visibility on printed documents; logo on the iimt website linked to your company; job advertisements on the iimt website.
  Proposal for company-related topics for Bachelor and/or Master theses.

The reason why:

Invest in your future and become an iimt partner. As a partner, you will not only benefit from our educational programmes and research, but you will have the opportunity to establish contact with leading figures in both the academic and the industrial worlds. Benefit from our international network – your future starts today . . .

We are happy to welcome you within our partner network and will contact you as soon as possible.

How it works:

The table above shows all the potential benefits you can enjoy as an iimt partner. From “General items” through “Executive Programmes” to “Research”, the iimt offers numerous benefits in the area of Management in Technology.

Put together your individual package of benefits especially tailored to your own needs and wishes by selecting your preferred options in the table. Depending on the composition of your benefits, we will make you an individual offer within the partnership categories.

Platinum Partner	up to	CHF 150,000
Gold Partner	up to	CHF 60,000
Silver Partner	up to	CHF 10,000
Bronze Partner		CHF 5,000

Some thoughts of our Partners

Groupe e SA

"Possessing the ability to adapt, means being able to learn: this is of crucial importance especially within the electricity market, which is exposed to considerable change these days. Within this context, our company regards the constant professional development of its employees as a key factor on the path to success. Therefore, the iimt offers special continuing education programmes which are tailored to our industry."

Swisscom (Schweiz) AG

"Dynamics and uncertainty further increase in our life and especially in the ICT industry. Thus the competence and willingness to anticipate and to shape the future is a key competence for leaders. Developing this competence requires lifelong learning. The iimt provides a platform for employees to keep up to date with latest insights in research and academic life related to our industry. Working with case studies from participating corporations enriches the content of the educational programmes. This is mutually beneficial for academic and business life. Furthermore the students and alumnis build a powerful network for lifelong exchange of minds and the certified degrees will improve the employability of the students."

